WITNESS CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Attorney-General Paul A. Dever today filed with the clerk of superior court a petition for an order of notice adjudging William C. Carroll of Revere in contempt of court for alleged false testimony in the Revere gambling trial.

Judge Allan G. Buttrick, handed the petition by William M. Pridmore, clerk of superior criminal court, directed that an order of notice issue, returnable some time after the present trial is completed.

At that time there will be a hearing on contempt charges made by Attorney General Dever in his petition.

The state prosecutor charged that Carroll, an electrician, gave varying testimony before the "blue ribbon" grand jury investigating conditions in Revere, and before the jury at the present trial resulting from the grand jury's indictments.

CITE CHANGED TESTIMONY

Specifically the attorney general charged that Carroll first told the grand jury that he did not know Timothy O'Connell, one of the alleged proprietors of the North Shore Club; that Carroll later told the grand jury he did know O'Connell and was paid by O'Connell for electrical work done by Carroll in the gambling club; and that Carroll, at the present trial, testified that he did not know O'Connell.

Carroll was present today at the trial having been instructed yesterday by Assistant Attorney-General John S. Derham, prosecuting, to be on hand today.

At today's session of the trial, O'Connell was identified for the first time as having been in the alleged gambling place.

GAMBLER FOR SIX DAYS

Identification was made by John R. Tullis, former state trooper but now an instructor at the Falmouth Community Center on Cape Cod. Tullis testified that on February 15, 1937, while a trooper, he went to the club in plain clothes to obtain evidence against the place.

He was admitted, played the horses, shot dice and played blackjack, he said, and in all was a "guest" for six consecutive days.

Asked if he could identify any of the 13 defendants as having been present in the club, Tullis picked out O'Connell, Edward L. O'Brien, Jr., another alleged proprietor; Peter Hedstrom, Bernard McGarry, Sam Langford, Max Gorfain, John Procut and Joseph Cortese—although the former trooper said he thought Cortese's name to be Carlo.

Four witnesses today testified that former Mayor James M. O'Brien of Revere, one of the 13 defendants, declared in a public address, while he was mayor, that there were seven gambling places operating in that city—instead of four, as had been charged by a radio commentator.

Samuel Harris of Garfield avenue, Revere, said he was present when O'Brien delivered the address late in 1936 or early in 1937 at the Jewish Men's Society clubhouse in North Shore road, Revere. Corroborating testimony was given by Archie Cohen of Revere, a lawyer with offices at 11 Beason.

25 Hurt as Jewish Anti-Arab Rioting Sweeps Holy Land

JERUSALEM, May 18 (INS)—Disorders which let a reported 25 persons wounded raged today as a 24-hour general strike among Palestine 400,000 Jews began in protest against the new British plan for an Arab-controlled state in the Holy Land.

Bombings and shooting broke out in Jerusalem and in Tel Aviv, the world's only all-Jewish city.

This afternoon, 15,000 Jews paraded through Jerusalem, carrying holy relics and posters announcing their determination to resist the British program. Arabs remained quiet.

Police fired upon a crowd of young Jewish demonstrators at Tel Aviv, wounding a number.

The disorders followed issuance in London of a "white paper" announcing plans to create within 10 years an "independent" Palestine state with the population fixed at two Arabs for each Jew.

Background note: The British "White Paper" issued yesterday in London shattered once more the Jewish dream of a sovereign Jewish

Backus Hearing in Turmoil; Spectator Bolts 'Disgrace'

Another stormy hearing of ouster proceedings against John H. Backus, head of the "blue sky" division of the Public Utilities Commission, culminated in what sounded like a pitched battle among the commissioners behind closed doors during a recess shortly before noon today.

Bandit Gets $28, Flees in Revere

Cowing the counterman and a customer with an automatic pistol early today, a lone bandit stole $28 at the Suffolk Diner, in Lee Burbank highway, Revere, then outdistanced the customer in an auto race.

Edwin Peterson, 33, of Seventh street, Medford, the counterman, and his unidentified customer, were the only occupants when the bandit stepped in at 3:30.

After the bandit had scooped the $28 out of the cash register and had departed in his car, the customer dashed for his own auto.

The chase led along Lee Burbank highway to Hichborn street, but the bandit had such a long start and was riding so fast that he was lost before the customer could make the turn.

Later police found an abandoned stolen car in Fennos street, Revere.

8 Spanish Youth Leaders Executed

MADRID, May 18 (AP)—Eight leaders of a Socialist youth organization, Juventud Socialista Unificada, died before the firing squad today. They were accused of assassinations while Madrid was in republican hands.

The recess was taken after it appeared that the hearing might get beyond control when Defense Counsel Joseph Scolopetti engaged in one tilt after another with Chairman Francis M. McKeown and Commissioner Abraham C. Weber over testimony given by Daniel J. Lynch, Governor Saltonstall's legislative secretary.

In the midst of one outburst a spectator arose, crying:

"This is disgraceful!"—and made for the door.

The outraged spectator identified himself as Arthur W. Hale of Brimmer street, Back Bay, a banker.

The session began quietly enough when Lynch was called to the stand, and Scolopetti identified him as "my friend, and I hope we stay so," but fireworks followed almost immediately afterwards.

"Just what did you have to do with this bill to abolish the 'blue sky' division?" asked Scolopetti. Lynch explained that he had done some of the investigating, but that he was principally concerned in the governor's economy program.

"Economy!" shouted Scolopetti, "didn't you find out that this department earned $10,000 last year?"

Lynch explained that he had not been concerned with that phase of the investigation. At this point Commissioner Weber broke in to chide Scolopetti on his tactics, saying:

"Don't you think you're getting a fair trial here? Answer 'yes' or 'no.'"

"I think this case has been prejudged," roared the attorney—and the recess was taken.

Parking Ban Hearing Set

A public hearing on the downtown parking ban between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9:30 a. m. will be held next Thursday at 10 a. m. in Boston police headquarters, it was announced today.

The announcement was made after a full session of the Boston Traffic Commission, which met to consider a barrage of complaints from wholesale merchants who declare the parking is hurting their business.

The ban was originally put in effect experimentally to prevent clogging of business streets by all-day parkers. Recently it was extended by order of Police Commissioner Joseph E. Timilty, who is a member of the Traffic Commission.

Senate Votes Civil Service Pay Boost

The State Senate concurred with the House today in amending the civil service reorganization bill by increasing the director's salary from $5000 to $6500 a year.

The Senate also voted to decrease the maximum which members of the proposed five-man civil service commission would receive from $1500 a year to $1200 to make up for the increase voted the director.

Quiet? It's All in How You View It

LONDON, May 18 (AP)—Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald told the House of Commons today that he had received a report from the British high commissioners in Palestine stating that "the situation throughout the country is generally quiet."

Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Laborite, evoked laughter by asking, "What is it like when it is not quiet?"

Two Jewish settlements were among those injured when some 1500 Jewish youths raided the Tel Aviv district government offices, violating the interior and firing the building.

In Jerusalem several hundred demonstrators denounced Britain and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. Later several bombs exploded, setting fire to the Palestine immigration building. Demonstrations also occurred at Haifa and other cities. Cutting of

CURTSEY FOR THE KING

Montreal Welcomes King, Queen Today

King George Receives Curtsy, Queen Elizabeth a Bow on Quebec Dock

WHAT KING WILL AND WON'T DO!

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP)—British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay held today the first press conference in his life—to tell correspondents the sole political purpose of the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to the United States was "to improve the ties of friendship with your country."

PURPOSE OF VISIT

Sir Ronald said the royal visit had primarily been arranged as a visit to Canada and the visit to the United States was not at the fore at that time in the minds of the King and Queen.

"The purpose of the visit here is not primarily political, although it is perfectly obvious that when the King visits a foreign country part of his purpose is to improve the ties of friendship as far as he possibly can. There is no more political purpose in the visit than that," he stated.

Answering a question, he said it was "inconceivable that the King would not have conversations with Secretary Hull during his visit."

There will be no press conference of any sort by the King, he said.

WILL MAKE NO SPEECHES

He said the King would not make any speeches here, but would pronounce a short toast at the state dinner at the White House.

Asked why the King was not put in contact with more of average Americans, the ambassador replied: "There is such an awful lot of them."

Asked whether American men should bow from the waist to the King, Sir Ronald replied:

"I think they might do what I do when I meet the President. I behave in a suitable and respectful manner."

"I would certainly give a bow. Whether it comes from my waist or not, I don't know."

QUEBEC, May 18 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth left Quebec aboard their special train today to trace the path of empire to the far Pacific and back in a month's tour of Canada and the United States.

The King and Queen left Quebec citadel, their stopping place for the first night a British reigning monarch ever had spent on the soil of the western world, at 9:10 a. m. (Boston time) and 22 minutes later began the first overland stage of their historic trip.

A stop of 17 minutes was made at Three Rivers en route to Montreal.

Crowds raised a thunderous farewell cheer as the King and Queen passed into Palais Station to board the train.

King George wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet and the Queen a light blue suit. A fur was wrapped around her shoulders as they stepped into an open automobile in bright but crisp weather than yesterday.

It was the first time the King and Queen had seen the luxurious blue and silver train that will be their "traveling palace" and which will carry them over more than 2000 miles of Canadian and United States territory.

At the stop in Three Rivers thousands of French-Canadian mill workers, school children and citizens gave the royal party a vociferous welcome.

Welcomed with cheers and pledges of loyalty to this old, rock-like guardian city of his western realm yesterday, the British monarch and his Queen were ready for a route trod in the past by adventurers, pioneers, Indian traders, missionaries and fighting armies. The royal train was due in Montreal this afternoon.

Howard Hughes On Mystery Hop

NEW YORK, May 18 (INS)—Mystery today enveloped the flight on which Howard Hughes, globe-girdling aviator, and two companions took off yesterday shortly before noon from Floyd Bennett Field.

Although it was rumored at the airport that the flight was a test for a projected atmosphere flight to South America, field attaches asserted today they had received no word from Hughes since the take-off and did not know his destination or whether he had landed.

Hughes took off in the same twin-motored Lockheed cabin monoplane in which he flew around the world last July.

Cardinal First To Greet King, Only One to Talk

QUEBEC, May 18—First person presented to the King was His Eminence, Cardinal R. Villeneuve of the Roman Catholic Church.

A round, twinkly, jolly little man with snowy hair, he walked up to his temporal King, defender of the faith (Protestant), whose nervousness he could not fail to have noted, like a kindly father, took the young King's outstretched right hand in both of his.

The Prince of the church spoke with the King for a moment or so, the only person presented who had any conversation at all with His Majesty.

day's program before their majestic departure to sleep tonight—their second on Canadian soil—on a secret siding in the country. A morning run Friday will bring the train to Ottawa, the capital, by 11 a. m. Boston time.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King pointed the way to his royal guests at the Dominion luncheon in Quebec in a speech recounting some of the glories of the vast West.

Mrs. Jeffrey Roche Dies Here

ONLY 22, Mrs. Jeffrey Roche, New York socialite, shown here with her husband, son of the late author, Arthur Somers Roche, was dead today in Boston, victim of a short illness. She died in the New England Baptist Hospital. The couple were married last January in New York's "Little Church Around the Corner." Mrs. Roche was a Junior League member.

Mrs. J. Jeffrey Roche, 22-year-old New York socialite and a bride of but five months, died last night at the New England Baptist Hospital here following a few weeks' illness.

Mrs. Roche was the daughter of William Mowat Plook and Mrs. John Gwoliney, both of New York. Her young husband, Jeffrey, is the son of the late Arthur Somers Roche, noted author.

The couple were married early last January at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York's "Little Church Around the Corner."

Mrs. Roche was a graduate of the Ethel Walker School of New York and attended Smith College. She made her debut in New York in 1935 and was a member of the Junior League.

After their marriage, the Roches took a honeymoon cruise. They had lived in New York until Mrs. Roche was recently stricken. She came to Boston on April 28 for treatment. Private funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Mrs. Roche's father is a prominent corporation executive and chairman of the board, New York Shipbuilding Corporation.

Mrs. Roche's father, Arthur Somers Roche, was born in Somerville, studied at Holy Cross and was graduated from Boston University law school. At the time of his death four years ago, he was one of America's foremost authors. His father was James Jeffrey Roche, eminent Boston editor, diplomat and close associate of William Boye O'Reilly, the poet.

PATIENTS PACKED IN ICE TO CURE BY HIBERNATION

St. Louis, May 18—Like wildfire a new medical idea, human hibernation, is spreading among the thousands of doctors here for the annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

They want to try it on heart disease, insanity, tuberculosis and ill representing the whole gamut from degenerative to infectious disease.

All week they have been standing knee deep, on tiptoe, in little rings around a motion picture in a small scientific exhibition booth, seeing something that never before was done to human beings.

The pictures show women, naked except for a loin cloth, being put to "sleep" like hibernating bears, by refrigeration.

PATIENTS FROZEN

The women are stripped and covered with cracked ice like frozen fish. An electric fan is turned on. Internal temperatures are forced down below 90.

They literally go to sleep. Patients report none of the agonizing pains preceding freezing.

When the ice is removed they stay cool like a bear in his winter cave. They are kept thus for five days. At the end they are awakened by hot coffee, or warm applications. They arouse smiling, as if from sleep, and with no memory of what has happened different from completely dreamless sleep. The pulse beat disappears. Only the electrocardiograph shows the heart is still beating in a perfect, easy rhythm.

DIGESTION STOPS

Their kidneys stop. Bowels and apparently all digestive works stop.

Medical watchers say it ought to give the heart a complete rest, like nothing else can, and so perhaps prolong life.

Hibernation has been given to seven persons, five women and two men.

All of these persons asked for the treatment for relief of pain; they were not experimental human guinea pigs.

The hibernation has been given only since last October, but was preceded by three years of local application of cold on 38 persons which proved that cold relieves pain and reduces cancer growth.

KILLS CANCER CELLS

Cells killed at 89 are the embryonic or youthful cancer cells. The adult cells, which in many types of this disease are in the minority, are not supposed to be killed. The experiments have not gone far enough to make certain that adult cells are completely unaffected by this mild cold. Over experiments on chick embryos and embryonic plants indicate that mild cold either inhibits or kills most, if not all kinds of embryonic tissue cells.

When cancer cells are frozen at 100 below zero it is believed the adult cells are the ones which survive. In these low temperature freezing experiments it is not feasible to recognize the difference between embryonic and adult cancer cells.

Witness Tells Of Bribe Offer

Dramatically producing two $50 bills in United States district court today, a government witness testified they were given him as an attempted bribe by Emmanuel "Manny" Schwartz, one of 19 defendants on trial on liquor conspiracy charges.

"Schwartz told me, 'Get out of town, don't do any more talking in down to New York and see the World's Fair,'" the witness, Francis McNamee, 26, of Mattapan, asserted.

"I said I couldn't leave town," he continued. "I said I was under summons, and had to testify. Then Schwartz told me to forget it and hop a train. He said there'd be another $50 or $100 in it for me if I did."

ELLEN SHALIT, GLAMOUR CANDIDATE
She's Got What It Takes

Another Boston Deb In Glamour Girl Race

By BETTY ALDEN

Being a glamour girl is not just having a face to catch the news photographer's eye. The deb who will rate in this year's race to be "Glamour Girl No. 1" will have charm and talent as well as beauty.

Another Boston deb has been nominated for the title. Self-appointed amateur publicity agents have been boosting the stock of Ellen Shalit (pronounced Shay-lit), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Shalit of Brookline.

At this writing it seems that Ellen has much of what it takes to win the title. She is a lovely blonde, an accomplished actress and a charming conversationalist. These attributes should serve her in good stead, for the winner will not be chosen just on the merits of a pretty face.

For instance, Eleanor "Sister" Frothingham, a leading contender, is an accomplished singer. Last summer she spent two afternoons a week taking lessons in microphone technique from Sammy, the maestro at the Casino in Magnolia, where she sang at several impromptu parties.

She has been a model in society fashion shows since she was knee high to a grasshopper and has a flock of trophies won in North Shore horse shows.

PLAYS ON POLO TEAM

Cynthia Burrage, daughter of the famous poloist, Albert Cameron Burrage, Jr., is herself an expert mallet wielder, and played on the girls' polo team on the North Shore, organized by Elsie Sears and one of the few feminine polo teams in the country.

Who adds and subtracts all this talent, beauty and charm and decides who will be Glamour Girl No. 1? It's not an organized contest. No ballots are cast.

The judges are the boys who form the stag lines at deb parties throughout the winter. The girl who is best liked, most sought after and most dated emerges with the title, and as they say in most contests, "the decision of the judges is final."

HARVARD HOLDS FATE

So, as most Boston stag lines are made up of students from dear old Harvard, the erstwhile glamour girls should do their electioneering across the Charles.

GAS KILLS WIDOW AND PET DOG

With her pet dog—her only companion—lifeless on a chair beside her, Mrs. Esther Coville, 59-year-old Somerville widow, was found dead today in the living room of her home in Berkeley street.

She was a victim of accidental gas poisoning, Dr. John Paul Reardon, medical examiner, officially ruled.

He said the burner of a water heater in the kitchen—two rooms away—had apparently blown out after Mrs. Coville lit it.

Faithful in death as in life, the dog, Buttons, a Boston terrier, succumbed to the gas fumes as he sat on guard over his supposedly sleeping mistress.

Mrs. Coville's body, fully clad, lay on a divan. It was discovered when a family friend, Chester D. Price of the Somerville water department, came to visit Mrs. Coville. He smelled gas and called the police.

Dr. Reardon said he believed the woman had been dead at least 24 hours. She was last seen Tuesday. She lived alone, although she had two daughters.

"Who's Sally Rand?"

He had been asked if he had seen the fan dancer when at the San Francisco exposition.

Children of Divorce Sob for Lost Home

Two little children of divorce, Dorothea Kaltsos, 10, and her brother, Angelo, 8, today had left but four joyful days of reunion with their dad, before a ruling of Judge John V. Mahoney of Suffolk Superior Court separates them.

Judge Mahoney ruled they must then be placed in care of a social service organization, because their mother is unable to care for them and their father had neglected them.

The uncontrolled grief of little Dorothea, as she rushed to her father, clung to him, cried, "Daddy, Daddy, I don't want to leave you," won for her and for her brother a temporary respite.

Judge Mahoney ruled that she and Angelo might remain until Monday with the father, John Kaltsos of Warren st., Roxbury, but that on May 22 both must be turned over to the Boston Children's Aid Society. The society will then place them in a private family.

Kaltsos and his divorced wife, Mrs. Rita Kaltsos, were both in court when Judge Mahoney made his final ruling. It was the result of a recent custody hearing in which both parents had fought for the children, and in which both had lost.

"It is regrettable," said Judge Mahoney, "that these two children have to be separated from their parents, but under the circumstances it is necessary for their best interests. According to the evidence, the mother is unable to take care of them and the father has obviously neglected them."

Judge Mahoney ordered the father to pay $10 a week for their board and to provide their clothing. Both father and mother, he said, may see the children "at reasonable times."

Seize 'Death Kiss' Widow

PHILADELPHIA, May 18 (AP)—Topped by the arrest in New York of a woman known to police as "Kiss of Death" and the "Rose of Death," a leading character in the East's mass-murder melodrama, three quick developments spurred a drive today for swift prosecution of 25 men and women charged with participation in plots to kill for insurance.

The developments were:

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation seized Rose Carina in New York, ending a long search for the woman detectives say lured men to their deaths for dollars.

The Philadelphia office of the FBI arranged the return from Cleveland of Dominick Rodio, 51, a former private detective of the slay-for-pay syndicate.

SEEKS INDICTMENTS

A Philadelphian was held in $5000 bail, charged with attempting to extort money from the son of his widow held in the mass-murder case on a promise to obtain her release.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Vincent P. McDavitt said he would ask a grand jury today for murder or conspiracy indictments against a dozen suspects.

He indicated group arraignments would begin Monday, with expectations of several guilty pleas. The first trial may begin a week later, he said.

CHECK 3 DEATHS

Although McDavitt has described Mrs. Carina as "just a cog in the wheel," investigators dramatically dubbed her "The Kiss of Death Woman." They charged three of her five husbands died under suspicious circumstances.

Rodio was arrested by Cleveland police yesterday. He is charged with a part in the drowning of Joseph Arena off Sea Isle City, N. J., in 1932. He has said he was on a fishing trip with Arena, but declares the other man fell out of the boat.

Charles R. Gilley, Registry Aide, Dies

Charles R. Gilley, 50, veteran chief clerk of the Registry of Motor Vehicles, died today at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Nature of Gilley's ailment was not disclosed. He was admitted to the hospital Tuesday. His home was in Glendon road, Needham.

Pope Takes Throne In Diocesan Church

ROME, May 18 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, as Bishop of Rome, took formal possession of his diocesan Church of St. John Lateran today with an invocation to the Virgin to preserve peace on earth.

As the Pontiff was borne to the balcony to bless the multitude in the bright sunshine outside the basilica at the end of a magnificent four-hour ceremony, the choir sung a hymn to the Blessed Virgin in accordance with his wish that prayers be offered to her during this month to spare the world from war.

The ceremonies, the first of their kind since 1866, included an evidence of friendly relations existing between the Italian government and the Vatican.

Italian troops massed outside the Basilica exchanged military honors with the Pope's Palatine guardsmen, and military bands played a hymn, the royal march and Giovanna, the Fascist air.

Wearing a bishop's cloth of gold mitre, the Pope sat on the throne in the apse of the ancient basilica and received the obeisance of his cardinals. Shortly before, seated on a special throne in the atrium he had received the keys to the basilica.

Inside the nave of St. John's today, thousands of invited witnesses cheered as the Pope ascended the throne.

Thousands got a glimpse of the pontiff as he drove from the Vatican to the Palace of St. John, adjoining the church, and when he walked with his attendants, costumed as in the Middle Ages, from the palace to the church.

HOPE GONE FOR SWEDE SEA FLIER

CHICAGO, May 18 (AP)—Relatives on both sides of the Atlantic virtual y abandoned hope today for the safety of Charles Backman, Chicago aviator long overdue on an attempted solo flight from Newfoundland to Stockholm.

The 34-year-old flier has been unreported since his takeoff early Tuesday. Backman's small, 90-horsepower monoplane carried sufficient fuel for a 45 hour flight. He had figured making the crossing in 29 hours.

Backman's brothers, Andrew and Gust of Chicago, said they had lost hope for his safe arrival. In Sweden another brother expressed fear he had been forced down at sea. Backman's craft carried no radio.

Letitia Lentz, 20, the flier's sweetheart, indicated that she also had abandoned hope. However, she, like the aviator's mother, brothers and sisters in the village of Rattvik, Sweden, remained near radios in hope of hearing news of him.

Two persons were killed and two injured yesterday in an explosion in the Woolwich Arsenal's cartridge shop.

don, a Revere lawyer. Cohen said additionally that citizens added in his speech.

"Why should the people of Revere go to Suffolk Downs, where they have to pay admission to bet their money? Instead they can go to betting places here in Revere."

PASTOR IS WITNESS

Appearing briefly as a witness was the Rev. E. Ambrose Thomas, pastor of the First Congregational church, Revere.

He said he had observed much traffic and a large number of cars around the North Shore Club and was aware that the Revere Automobiles had been posted to members of the Revere police department.

"I think I talked with Chief Tighe as to what I had heard about the North Shore Club opening, or was running, and that was about two weeks before the said," said Captain Tappan. "The chief made no comment on the matter."

COMPLAINT SENT TIGHE Another state witness today was Captain James P. Mahoney, executive officer of the state police, who testified that he had received a complaint against the North Shore Club, a converted garage. This complaint, he said, had been received.

"Why don't you close up the horse race and gambling establishment at the North Shore Garage, North Shore road, opposite the Milk Company, near Beach street, Revere."

Boston Jews Pray for Palestine

During the week ending Monday, the White Paper, endangering the future of Palestine as a homeland for the Jewish people, is being discussed in the British parliament.

The new policy outlined today would in essence displace the Jewish people from the land of their fathers.

A storm of protest from all parts of the world against Britain's proposal brought a proclamation from the Orthodox Rabbis distributed at Greater Boston synagogues today.

A mass meeting of New England Zionists has been called at Faneuil Hall for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which Gershom Salomon will be a speaker.

The proclamation read in part: "The Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the United States and Canada the highest national authorities in this country has requested us, the rabbis of Boston to designate the coming Monday, May 22, 1939, as a day of prayer and supplication before God Almighty. For on that day, the betraying white paper endangering the future of Palestine is to be presented for discussion in the British Parliament.

Hub Girl Hitch-Hikes From Texas on $3.01

Stripped Boston girl was safe home here today after hitchhiking from Houston, Tex., where she found herself stranded with a total cash capital of $3.01.

The unidentified young woman, Miss Leland, 26, of Boston, came west to please her husband.

She was hitchhiking from Houston, Tex., where she found herself stranded with a total cash capital of $3.01.

"My phone misarranged," she said today. "I knew it's best thing for me would be to get back to Boston if I could."

"I have to use crutches, because of an attack of infantile paralysis years ago. So I couldn't do much real walking."

"But everyone was fine to me. I got lifts through Oklahoma City, St. Louis, Columbus, Erie and Buffalo to Boston. One woman autoist insisted even on buying my meals. My entire trip only took six days. And I still had $3.01."

"Now I'm living with a woman friend and picking up a little money doing colored photog-

Austen Lake: Punch-Drunk Goofies: A Sad, Sad Saga

A RICH, RESONANT BOO SUBMERGED the former lightweight champion, Tony Canzone, in his hometown of New Orleans the other evening when the antiquated boxer wobbled through ten futile rounds. The fight mob, after the savage temperament of its kind, forgot the glory-howls they had uttered for Tony when he was sleek, fit and lethal. Now they saw only a prematurely old, battered and tired little man. "BOOOOOO." And when it was over the referee spoke an obituary over the fat figure with the fungus ears and bloated features. "Hell," he said, "he'd oughta quit before he gets slug-nutty."

AUSTEN LAKE

Slug-nutty! The dread affliction of the professional fighter. I recall the afternoon that the sanitary authorities committed an ex-spasm of Jim Braddock's and Max Baer's to Bellevue. He used to hang around fight camps, beg nickels and sleep under the scaffold. He was a familiar character and the fight crowd used to laugh when he mumbled his double talk and yelled his turkey screams. But he didn't care because he couldn't concentrate any more.

But sometimes when lean, lithe young fighters came out for their sparring work, a wild light would come over his glazed eyeballs and he'd get very excited so that the shakes, tremors and shudders seized him and he screamed inarticulate zoo sounds. That was funny too—until he became a nuisance. So the men in the white linen coats trusted him up and carted him away. He was slug-nutty!

Dr. Carroll Explains

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A FIGHTER becomes "slug nutty," or "slap-happy," or "punch drunk," as the journalists terms go? Dr. Edward Carroll, Jr., who made a survey of this condition recently, tells us. "After an average period of four years, during which time he has engaged in about 30 to 60 bouts," says the medico, "a professional fighter begins to soften up. Some disintegrate earlier, some later, depending on their defensive skill. But the average fighter finds after four years that he remains dazed for longer periods after being struck on the jaw. After a stiff blow to the head he will be a little shaky and feel numb. His timing begins to fail and now he begins to develop a flat nose and thick cartilage on the bridge of his nose and ears. Later his knees tend to buckle and a slight tremor in his feet is noticeable as he walks to his corner. Such a fighter would be best off feeling fine." But now he loses matches which formerly he could have won with ease." (Magnanimous—Does that sound like Cagney's case?)

"Meanwhile," continues Carroll, "the boxer's manager begins to notice that he is failing in attention, concentration and memory. His conversation takes on unfinished sentences. He goes into sudden raptures. He asks the same question over and over. He becomes over-zealous and glib. He has an impediment in his speech develops and his eyes 'float out.' In short, he simulates a person who is just a little slower than normal."

That this is the last stage of being slug-nutty!

IN MORE ADVANCED CASES THE FIGHTER'S voice begins to grow thick and husky as though he has hot marbles in his mouth. His gait becomes unsteady and he stumbles suddenly as though his hinges have come undone. His reflexes, through long habit, continue to spur his old fight movements and he will go suddenly into the fighter's dance, duck, dodge and shadow box with imaginary opponents. Thus a punch-drunk, sitting under the apron of the ring, may vigorously imitate the action of the fighters on the platform.

Most of the more intelligent fighters, like Dempsey, Tunney and Sharkey, were quick to recognize these early manifestations. All three, toward the end of their careers, were terrified by the prospect of being unable to taste their food. And for a long period Dempsey used to ask his intimate friends, "Do I act funny? Are my eyes queer?"

The happening which led to Tunney's decision to retire from fighting occurred during his training for Tom Heeney at Speculator. Tunney was boxing with a tough sparsmate who butted him under the left eye, cutting the brow and dazing him. Then the sparsmate stepped back and swung a crushing right to Gene's jaw.

Tunney stiffened, his head lolled and his eyes glazed. Without sagging to floor he was actually unconscious and for the next three days he wandered about the hills, confused and befuddled. When the condition cleared Tunney determined to quit the fight business forever.

DR. CARROLL ESTIMATES THAT 50 to 60 per cent of the fighters who remain in the ring for five years develop mental and physical defects. But though he has examined most of the foremost fighters of the time, he testifies refrains from mentioning names because the unfortunate goofies never believe they are goofy. They might sue for libel and it would be very expensive to buy off their lawyers for $250 each, of which they would give their clients 10 per cent.

So, possibly, had Dr. Carroll been the ringside physician at Canzone's last bout he would have happened up in the ring before the first bell and called it off in the interest of hygiene. But ringside doctors, generally, do not believe in prevention as thoroughly as Dr. Carroll and the majority of his colleagues. They get free seats and a little fee and are under obligations to the customers to halt the sticking only when, in their opinion, either party is in danger of serious impairment and not an instant before.

Sox, Unlike Last Year, Better Away Than Home

By JOE CASHMAN

It's not only on the road that the Red Sox have upset the dope so far this young season, or have you been noticing? Their fine showing on the recent trek around the circuit is no more surprising than their failure to set a faster winning pace at home.

Nine of the Croninmen's 13 victories to date have been gained on foreign fields. Three of their six defeats have been suffered at the Fens.

That's a strange record, indeed, for an outfit which last season could not get out of its own back yard and lost two more defeats than it could ever win.

And to let riding on Jersey street before long and again become the most feared home club in the circuit.

In fact, their home percentage may be as high as their road figures by the time they've played as many games at the Fens as they've completed on the trails.

LACKING IN POWER

At the moment, however, a Red Sox team that was expected to run wild in its own ballpark and have more than its share of trouble on the other fellow's lot is occupying the runner-up berth because of its success on alien soil.

Another odd feature of the showing of this Back Bay club of ours, which on paper has tremendous punch and but mediocre pitching, is that four of its six losses can be traced largely to lack of power.

They were whitewashed by Charlie Ruffing of the Yanks in a game which saw the remarkable Robert Moses Grove yield but seven hits and two runs.

They dropped a tilt to the Browns, because they couldn't hit "Buck" Newsum

First they won handily, 6-3, 6-2, over Elena Ciccone and Polly Blodgett, and soon after disposed of Mrs. Dorothy B. Hollywood Stars Win at Arena

While the brother of the Hollywood All Stars, Captain Joe and Lou Evans, accounted for foultalies last night in the roller derby held in the Boston Arena, Carl Count, Germany's gift to the racing world, again accounted for an Eleanor Powell team victory when, with the score tied 12-12, he captured the lone point in a three-minute overtime to establish a victory for Hollywood.

Garnering the lone point stretched the Hollywood team to six games, a lead of two over Boston.

Jayne Cummings marked up three points for Boston and smiling Tommy Atkinson accounted for four points in the Boston chart. Hot-tempered Jeannette Goette of the Hollywood group and who hails from Miami made five points for the movie team.

A matinee game will be presented on Saturday afternoon, and close to 1000 children throughout Greater Boston will be guests of the management.

Fletcher Benched

CINCINNATI, May 18 (INS)—Casey Stengel sent his squad out to Crosley Field early this afternoon to whip his rehabbed lineup into shape for the third and final game with the Reds here.

"They'll hit for me or else," was the tone of Stengel's caustic remarks as he named Danny MacFayden to pitch for the new supporting cast.

El Fletcher was on the bench, and Buddy Hassett on first base for today's game. Debs Garma moved out to right field, and Harry Maske, who has been idle because of an injured foot, took over third base.

Al Simmons may be benched, too, but Casey hadn't definitely decided on that. Al's batting has been off, and he hasn't been feeling too chipper, perhaps because he took too little rest after being benched recently.

FRANKY BEANS CRAFT

There was a possibility today that Fred Frankhouse, Bees pitcher, might be suspended for alleged use of the splitter yesterday. Harry Craft of the Reds was benched by Bill McKelch's men, but he hoped that the shakeup might bring more punch into action.

Fletcher, fielding superbly as usual, hasn't been hitting lately and has driven in only four runs all season.

The new lineup has more power than the old, and if it isn't weak, it may start to roll. It needs to, for the next stop is Pittsburgh, and the Bees are a tough medicine right now.

Dean, Higbe Brighten Cubs' Hill Outlook

CHICAGO, May 18 (INS)—Events of the past two days seem to have given Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs two more starting pitchers than he had banked on, and if performance matches promise in these cases the Cubs should soon be headed for their second consecutive National League pennant.

The added starters are Dizzy Dean and Kirby Higbe.

At the start of the season, Dean looked like a total loss.

His $185,000 thrower had not been of much use in 1938 and with his arm still failing to respond properly to treatment it appeared Dean's services wouldn't be of any great help.

Higbe, a young right-hander who won 15 and lost 10 for Birmingham last season, looked as though he might be of occasional use in relief roles.

But on Tuesday Dean hurled five innings in relief against the Brooklyn Dodgers, showed plenty of zip, good control and a nice curve, allowing only three scratch hits and no runs.

Hartnett announced today of Ditz will start against Boston on Sunday.

Should Dean go on from there to a fairly good season as a mound regular, he might win as many as 10 or 15 games and these games could mean another pennant.

As for Higbe, he took over in the 13th inning of that 19-inning affair between the Cubs and Dodgers yesterday, which ended in darkness with the score tied at 9-all.

Higbe worked seven innings, gave one hit and fanned seven to hold the Dodgers scoreless.

That feat gave the Southerner a record of sixteen and a half innings of relief pitching during which he has been touched for only four hits and no runs. In addition, he has struck out fourteen batters.

British Teams In 12-9 Win

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—

Britain's poloists, uniting up for the first international challenge open match June 4, rode to a 12-9 triumph over an American high-goal team at the Piping Rock Club, Laurel Valley, Bob Skene, the Australian, led the winners attack, at No. 1, with six goals.

Knox got three, Gerald Baiding two and one was awarded the Britons on a penalty. Eric Tyrrell-Martin was at back for the invaders.

The American combination included Seymour Knox at No. 1, G. H. (Petey) Bowditch, No. 2, Terence France, No. 3, and Billy Post, back.

Knox, Bowditch and France scored three goals each in a game in which the British took a 3-0 lead in the first chukker and never were behind.

Italian Cyclists Lead Six-Day Race

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—

The Italian combination of Reddi and Debono, surviving a session of hard jamming, rode into the lead in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, The Italians had a one-lap lead after 31 hours of pedaling.

Seven teams, including the powerful combine of Turchy and Doug Peden, were bunched one lap behind, while Wissel and O'Brien and Rodino and Testa were deadlocked for last place, another lap back. There were no serious spills, although the sprint series produced hard riding that kept a crowd of 10,000 enthralled.
